

Legislation: Key Themes

Where there's a will, there's a way

Lead initiatives to legislatively reform autism policy via the U.S. federal government in response to autism concerns

Add in what's missing from existing policy to affect change and help people with autism

Partner with Autism Organizations

Create reforms with autism organizations to address common concerns

Educate Congress on policy reforms ongoing since 2014 to prepare for 2019 legislation

Be open and work together

Prioritize initiatives most impactful to improving outcomes

Data driven decision-making for political outcomes

Be active and visible in D.C.

Deploy Professional Political Strategies

Be targeted using what means we have to be effective and produce results

Align with APRC Strategy Pillars

Create value via reformed Government Structures

Recognize ASD phenotypes and represent those severely affected by Autism

Reduce medical discrimination against a special patient population. Create medical treatment model for underlying physiological concerns for autism

Address rise in prevalence. Spend to plan to Research Environmental Triggers for regressive autism